

LOCUS[®] ONLINE is the exclusive software version of the LOCUS and CALOCUS instruments for the American Association for Community Psychiatry.

LOCUS ONLINE:

- Allows you to provide a LOCUS or CALOCUS assessment from any device that has a web browser.
- An assessment can be performed in as little as ten minutes.
- The LocusOnline instrument walks you through an assessment, calculates the results for you, and then provides a report you can print out.

Since LocusOnline provides the output electronically, you can easily print this to PDF or copy and paste the results into any Electronic Health Records system eliminating the need for expensive integrations and costly monthly fees.

LOCUS ONLINE is easy to use and affordable...

- There are no subscriptions or recurring fees, you simply pay per assessment.
- There are no subscriptions, no fine print, and no contracts.

- Pricing is based on volume and you only pay for what you use.
- Whether you are a small or large provider we offer flexible billing options.
- You can choose to fund your account manually through the software or be invoiced regularly for your usage.
- If you are performing more than 5,000 assessments a year we recommend you reach out to our sales department.

If you are interested in analyzing your data, we also offer the ability to export your results via a standard CSV file that can be imported into most analytical tools or EHR's.
